

SAVE THE DATES!

NHS Education for Scotland's (NES) Remote and Rural Healthcare Educational Alliance (RRHEAL) and Clinical Skills Managed Education Network (CSMEN) have worked with the University of Highlands and Islands, NHS Highland, NHS 24, University of Glasgow, community leads and members to support the development of a Scottish Centre of Excellence (SCoE) in remote, rural and island models of care, digital innovation and multidisciplinary education and training for health, social care professionals, volunteers and community members.

A Scottish Centre of Excellence Festival of Learning has been arranged from 28 March through to 10 April 2022 and the main base for this will be in Portree, Isle of Skye, with a blend of in person training and technology enhanced learning.

Some of the Planned Education and Training Topics will include:

- The Mobile Skills Unit
- Career development in remote, rural and island communities
- Digital innovation
- Care home training in personal outcomes, resilience and more
- Improving recruitment and retention in remote, rural and island areas

Please email your note of interest to attend to: events@nes.scot.nhs.uk

Registration for this event will open in January 2022

There is no charge to attend this event

Information can also be found on the event website which is continually updated:

<https://events.nes.scot.nhs.uk>